CASTRO FIGHTS HARD BUT LOSES TO COLTS IN ONE GRAND FIGHT

Doc. Ayers Against Johnny Verbout and Breaks All Favor Local Twirler—Fatal Fifth Proves Undoing of Former Colt.

BY GUS MALBERT.

Clark Griffith may have his Germany Schaeffer and his Nick Altrock, but Lou Castro actually has They're-Afraid-of-Me Garvin. Which, of course, has nothing whatever to do with the ball game that was annexed yesterday afternoon between the hours of 4:30 o'clock and 6 by Steve Griffin from the piratical individuals who have, up to the present time, been drawing pay from Charles T. Bland. Even though it tells nothing of the score, which was, incidentally, 3 to 2, it tells a great deal about a ball club which owes much to just one of the scrappiest and hardest working backstops in any league anywhere. Also it tells the story of why Portsmouth, though down in the race, has a ball club which is fighting every minute of the time.

Lou Castro suffered from the breaks. No man ever suffered more or fought harder or died gamier than he has in the two games which have been dropped here. Unfortunately, things have broken just right for the locals. We would not have it otherwise, but before launching into a technical and detailed story of how a fifth inning destroyed all possibility of a victory for a callant though depressed opponent, pardon is asked for the short digression. Garvin is a whole show. He is a manager, a set of clowns, a bundle of comedians, and an entertainment all by himself. Also Mr. Garvin is some catcher.

How It Happened. Having delivered ourselves of this masterful tribute to a wonderfully able young man, let's see if we remember enough about the game to report it accurately. It seems if memory serves naturally enough, is the skull and cross bones, embraced the future Walter Johnson of the American League with a triplet of hits and a brace of counts, much to the chagrin

BILLY HAY JOINS GRIFFIN'S COLTS

Local Wearer of Winshield Will Probably Catch Harvey Bussey To-Day.

Billy Hay, star backstop of the Battle-Axe club, winner of the pennant in the Capital City League will be given a chance to show his ability in the professional ranks. Steve Griffin will have Hay in uniform this afternoon, and he will probably catch one of the games.

Billy is largely responsible for the success of his club. His rare good judgment, ability to judge batsmen, strong right arm and a sunny disposition, all combine to make him a valuable bit of property. If ever a lad stepped from the amateur to the professional ranks with every prospect of making good Billy Hay is that lad. Not only can he peg with accuracy, run the bases with the best of them, but he handles the willow in a manner to make most fingers dread his appearance at the plate.

Griff has about decided to use Harry Griffin in the first game, which begins at 2:30 o'clock, the usual time, and Harvey Bussey to close the engagement. If this arrangement carries, Hay will probably catch Bussey. The Colts want these two games, and the addition of Hay to the corps is going to help.

WHERE THEY PLAY TO-DAY.

Brooklyn at St. Louis.

New York at Pittsburgh.

Philadelphia at Cincinnati.

Boston at Chicago.

Pittsburgh, Pa., August 23.—The Giants captured both games this afternoon from the Pirates 2 to 1 in ten innings, and 3 to 2 in the regulation time. In both games the visitors out-generalized the locals, and won both games because of Clark's bad mistakes in each, while McGraw used excellent judgment and deserved to win both games.

Pittsburgh has lost seven of the last nine games played at home.
